[SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.] IVY CITY RACE TRACE, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 1 .- Adversity has its use even from a weather standpoint, and if the rain, which began to fall last evening and continued all night, depressed the spirits of the horsemen and officials of the National Jockey Club, they are correspondingly elevated at the delightful weather now prevailing. The crisp air and genial sunshine has brought out a large crowd, but the track is in such a sloppy condition that the day's racing is seriously affected by the number of horses "scratched" no less than eight going out of the first race. There was a large arrival from New York this morning, including a delegation from Clifton. The racing began with the biggest kind of an upset. Ovid was backed like a certainty for the first race. She ran like a pig, and Young Duke, revelling in the mud, came away, winning easily, to the great delight of the holder or holders of the only two mutuel tickets sold on him, they paying $180.50 each. The second race squared matters somewhat, for Nettle, the favorite, won easily after a good race in the last quarter with The Bour-bon and Orlando, ridden respectively by Gar-good race in the last quarter with The Bourbon and Orlando, ridden respectively by Garrison and McLaughlin.

The third race was looked forward to with much interest, as the favorites, Richmond and Knight of Ellerslie, were to be ridden by McLaughlin and Garrison. Neither had a ghost of a chance as the race was run, for at the end of half a mile Le Logos took the track and was never reached, winning away off, the favorites bringing up the rear. It was another good thing for holders of mutuels, they paying $71.90 while in the books 15 to 1 could have been had. The race caused much excitement and no end of talk.

The fourth race, like the second, again smoothed matters. King Crab, ridden by Jinmy McLaughlin, was the favorite and winner, to the great delight of many present, but there was some little irritation at the bad start Garrison got with Rita R. "Jimmy" also won the fitth race with Frank Ward. He was not a favorite, but was almost as well backed. It leaves him three winning mounts the best of Garrison.

num, 3 to 1 Young Puke and 5 to 1 Al Reed. Pools—Ovid, $25; the field, $15.

The Race.—To a good start Ovid rushed to the front and at the quarter was half a length the best of Young Duke, with Glenmound close up and followed by Barnum. In the run down the back stretch Young Duke dropped back and Glenmound went up to Ovid and led by a head at the half, with Young Duke two lengths away. On the lower turn both Young Duke and Barnum joined issue with the leaders, and at the three-quarters Glenmound was a head in front of Young Duke and Barnum, with Ovid dropping back. When well in the straight Young Duke came right away, winning easily by two lengths from Glenmound, who was three in front of Barnum. Mutuels paid (only two tickets sold): $180.50.

SECOND BACE. Purse $500, for three-year-olds and upward, en trance, $15 each, to the second; to carry 5 lb. abov the scale; selling allowance; horses entered to b sold for $1,500 to carry full weight; mile and a fur

The Race.—They got away well together, when Vinton ran out, and in passing the stand was a length and a half in front of Netstand was a length and a half in front of Nettle, who was a length in front of Tony Foster. At the quarter Vinton increased his lead by another length, with Orlando running second, a length in front of The Bourbon. Vinton still led at the half mile by a length. All the others except Tony Foster closed up in the run round the turn and at the three-quarters Nettle led The Bourbon by a neck, with Vinton a length and a balf back. It was a good race up the stretch, in which Nettle held his own, winning by a length from The Bourbon, he a length and a half in front of Orlando. Others beaten off. Mutuels paid $14.80,

THE CHARGES AGAINST GOULD.

Mr. Martine to Submit His Full Opinion to the Next Grand Jury.

District-Attorney Martine said this morning that the limited time which the present Grand Jury will sit before being discharged is not sufficient for him to fully examine into the Kansas Pacific charges against Jay Gould and Russell Sage.

He has therefore determined only to report the progress of the investigation to the present body, and to submit a maturely considered opinion to the next Grand Jury.

The Lowell directors then made him an offer of $2,000, but McGunnigle said that that did not come up to the mark. He said that he ex-pected a final snawer from Brooklyn not later than to-night.

Funeral of Maggie Arlington The funeral of Maggie Arlington, the pretty soubrette, who died last Sunday from the effects of an accident, took place this afternoon. Among the floral contributions was one from Mr. E. Got schalk, nephew of Mr. Sol Mehrbach, the millionaire director of the third average and arried to hiss Arlington this winter. The services were conducted at the honse. By special dispensation of Father Donnelly the services were read by the Rev. Father Kelly. This is a somewhat unusual proceeding, because the burial was to be in un-consecrated ground. The interment took place in the Actors' Fund plot at Evergreens Cemetery.

William Geer Brought Down From Elmire This Morning. William Geer, who was arrested by Chief of Police Little at Elmira, in compliance with a telegram from Inspector Byrnes, was brought to this city to-day. The warrant charges grand larceny against the prisoner, the specific charge being that he issued a check for $125 on the Oswego Bank, where he had no deposit, and got it cashed.

Geer was at one time a ball-player of con siderable skill and reputation. He lived at Syracuse. About eight years ago he was a member of the old Syracuse Stars. While playing he attracted the attention of a charmplaying he attracted the attention of a charming young lady, the daughter of a prominent man of Syracuse. It was a case of love at first sight, but the young woman knew that her parents would not sanction the marriage that was in due time proposed by young Geer. They managed to become husband and wife, however, without more than half a dozen friends learning of the fact, and it was kept a secret for two years or more. Their relations could not always be kept quiet, however, and the matter at last became public. It created a big stir in society circles in Syracuse. As Geer was able to take care of his wife, the parents, after some hesitation and many tears, forgave after some hesitation and many tears, forgave the pair. After the death of the parents of Mrs. Geer

After the death of the parents of Mrs. Geer the family estate was divided. Mrs. Geer came into possession of an income of about $4,000 a year. On this the pair lived comfortably and about as happily as anybody.

Mrs. Geer came to New York yesterday to arrange for the release of her husband if possible. She claims that her husband is entirely innocent of any wrong doing. Geer had been an importer of buttons, a partner of J. B. Cooper, but health failing him and partnership affairs not running smoothly, he quit business and went to Elmira to live. He was staying, with his wife and two children, at a boarding-house in that city when arrested.

Geer was arraigned in the Jenerson Mar-ket Police Court this morning. William E. Mason, cashier of the Grand Union Hotel, charged him with passing a worthless check for $125 on Oct. 3. He was held until Nov. 10. The detectives who had charge of Geer said that he is wanted in Chicago for passing a worthless check for $250 upon Spalding, the baseball man. He is also wanted in Albany for passing a similar check for $100.

HARLEM'S SCHOOL DISASTER.

Workmen Testifying at the Inquest Over the Seven Victims.

Coroner Eidman began an inquest to-day in the case of Father Kirner, of the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, and the six men who were killed by the collapse of the walls of the parochial school. F. W. Devoe, formerly Chairman of the F. W. Devoe, formerly Chairman of the Building Committee of the Board of Education, and W. P. Esterbrook and J. M. MacGregor, both ex-Superintendents of Buildings, were added to the jury. William J. Martin, the Building Inspector in whose district the building was, and who is now under bail, was present with his counsel.

Thomas Grogan, a watchman, gave testimony showing how the walls of the school were weakened by recesses. Michael Reilly, of 417 East One Hundred and Fifteenth street, a mason and builder, testified that he noticed a slight bulge in the west wall three days before the accident. Father Kirner was personally in charge of the work and had constant trouble with the men, who brought beer into the building. When the witness saw the bulge he called the attention of Timothy Lynch to it, and Lynch said it was all right.

Frank Bannon, a bricklayer, testified that the bricks and mortar were good. He also noticed the bulge, and it was not a bulge which would necessarily weaken the wall.

Edward Walsh, another bricklayer, said that the material was all right, but was not properly used. Bannon said to him one day: "Look at the work. It's carelessly

The giver of all good gifts has especially granted us happiness and weifare in the year that is ending. We have been kept in health, we have been preserved from strife within our borders and in peace with foreign states. We have been given abundant harvest, and have seen great increase in our material wealth. It has long been our custom to observe in grateful public and private remembrance of God and his mercies, a day set apart for worship and for reunion of friends and of kindred. Therefore, by the power vested in me as Governor of the State of New York, I do appoint Thursday, the 24th day of this November, as a day of thanksgiving.

Let the people then rejoice, and that all may be partakers in rejoicing, let the spirit of Christian charity abound, and thus the hungry be fed, the naked clothed, the prisoner visited, and the ignorant taught the foundations upon which our freedom rests.

Mrs. Henry Ludlow Mortally Burned While Rescuing Her Child.

ISPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD. CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 1 .- Mrs. Henry Lud. ow, of Haddonfield, lost her life yesterday in saving that of her babe.

She was pushing the baby coach in the rear of the house when the vehicle overturned and upset an oil stove. The oil spread rapidly and was all affame.

Mrs. Ludlow sprang forward, seized the babe and rescued it from death, but her clothing caught fire and she was burned to death. Her screams brought help to her but too late to save her.

Bad Temper and a Mother-in-Law. Luther W. Jacobs, a clerk in the Bewery Sav ngs Bank, is being sued by his young wife, Lillian B. Jacobs, for a separation upon the ground of B. Jacobs, for a separation upon the ground of abandonment. The husband, in an affidavit, charges his mother-in-law with being the cause of his domestic unhappiness, and states that he and his wife could live happily together were it not for her mother, who insisted upon living with him and under whose control his wife is. In addition, he says, she has a very bad temper. Judge Allen to-day ordered the husband to pay his wife $10 per week pending the action.

The Board of Audit of the town of Newtown, L. I., will hold a meeting to-day, at which it is expected the accounts of ex-County Treasurer Francis B. Baldwin, so far as they relate to the Francis B. Baldwin, so far as they relate to the sales of property for unpaid taxes in the town during the six years from 1819 to 1886, will be the subject for investigation. Mr. Baldwin's accounts were never audited, though he paid himself thousands of dollars in commissions on property bought in for cents per capits for the support of 'he locked-out brassworkers. It appears that the District meeting of last Sunday was held at 10 o'clock instead of 3, as usual, and only sixty-cight delegates out of the 900 were present, and the District Executive Board was sustained in the levy by a vote of 35 to 33. Several local assemblies have already protested against the assessment, and a general row is expected when the District meeting is held next Sunday afternoon.
